Hi Dave,

Glad you like the page. The friends are people who have seen the various posts and wanted to get regular posts. The initial people were invited directly the rest have been coming on board as they see the information shared on users' news feeds.

The page was created through the original communication committee as a tool for sharing information. It will go wide this week. The group has been looking for some simple status display to show the work progress status. I had checked the sites briefly, but didn't find what was needed. We had been discussing a flag status setup or a traffic light thing. Something quick, but meaningful. Any thoughts (le. air quality - good, water quality - good, work progress - proceeding, project - on schedule. However shown as a display that could be pinned to top of page.)
Anything that we left out?

por que

¿Por qué diablos?

- gee Dave you expect me to know spanish ....?
Just got the message, I'm checking my calendar - in the middle of two fights and three major projects.

I just checked it out. Nice! Who are the friends? Who created this? I cannot get any info on members or when it was created but I like it as a tool.

Also, you did not yet reply on Doodle.....por que?

Saving Our Passaic River

Hi Dave,

Have you had a chance to check out the facebook page? I didn't get any feed back.
Lenny

BTW, I like doodle. Nice. I'll have to look into it further
